DEDICATION

To June Thompson and Paul George,
Two caring, loving, spiritually beautiful and very wise people,
Who taught me that in life I have the right to make choices –
And to love and respect myself as well as others.
Thanks for caring.

Liberty

This melody is based on a combination of the chordal and scale tones.

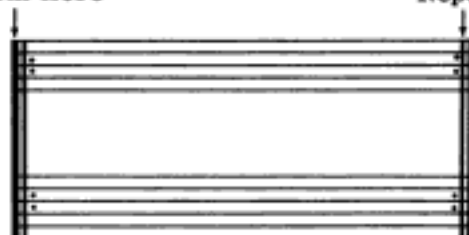

Medium bright

The musical score for 'Liberty' is written for piano and features four systems of music. Each system consists of a treble and bass staff joined by a brace. The key signature has one flat (B-flat), and the time signature is 4/4. The first system begins with a repeat sign and includes fingerings (1, 2, 3) and articulation marks (accents and slurs). Chord symbols C, F, and G7 are placed above the staff. The second system continues the melody with similar articulation and chord symbols C, F, G7, and C. The third system features a C chord at the start and a G7 chord at the end. The fourth system concludes with C, F, G7, and C chords. The piece ends with a repeat sign.

First system of musical notation. The treble clef staff begins with a C major chord (C) and contains a sequence of eighth notes with 'V' markings above them. The bass clef staff provides a simple accompaniment. The system concludes with an Am (A minor) chord.

Second system of musical notation. The treble clef staff continues the melody with a C major chord (C) at the start, followed by Am (A minor) and G7 (Dominant Seventh) chords, and ends on a C major chord (C). The bass clef staff continues the accompaniment.

Third system of musical notation, labeled 'Chorus'. The treble clef staff features a melody starting with an F major chord (F). The bass clef staff continues the accompaniment.

Fourth system of musical notation. The treble clef staff continues the chorus melody with C (C major), Am (A minor), G7 (Dominant Seventh), and C (C major) chords. The bass clef staff continues the accompaniment.

THE CHORUS CAN BE PLAYED AN OCTAVE HIGHER

Fifth system of musical notation, showing an alternative octave-higher version of the chorus. The treble clef staff includes fingerings (circled numbers) and slurs for the melody. The bass clef staff continues the accompaniment. The system ends with the word 'etc.'.

Amazing Grace

When playing in $\frac{3}{4}$ or waltz time the thumb and index finger are frequently used together in playing the rhythm strokes. In measure number one of the following solo the thumb and middle finger are used on the first beat. The thumb and index finger are used to play the rhythm stroke on the second beat. The middle and index fingers are used for the eighth notes on the third beat.

The first system of the musical score for 'The Rose Tree' consists of two staves. The upper staff is in treble clef and contains a melody with eighth and sixteenth notes. Above the staff, there are two rows of chords: the first row has 'C' above the first measure and 'G7' above the last measure; the second row has 'C' above the first measure and 'C' above the last measure. The lower staff is in bass clef and contains a bass line with eighth and sixteenth notes, often beamed together. The system is divided into four measures by vertical bar lines.

Second system of musical notation, featuring a treble and bass staff. The treble staff has a G7 chord above the third measure and a C chord above the fourth measure. The bass staff has "Pull off" markings above the third and fourth measures.

Chorus

The musical notation for the chorus consists of two staves. The top staff is in treble clef and contains a melody of eighth and quarter notes. The bottom staff is in bass clef and contains a bass line with many beamed eighth notes. Chord symbols 'G7' and 'C' are written above the top staff in the fourth measure. The instruction 'Pull off' is written above the bottom staff in the fourth measure.
